DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Application

1. This action is in reply to applicant amendment filed May 30, 2008.
2. Claims 16-19, 24-27 and 32-35 have been amended.
3. Claims 1-15 have been cancelled.
4. Claims 16-43 are pending in this application.
5. During a telephone conversation with Michael Taylor on 12/12/2007 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Species B, claim 43 disclosed in the December 28, 2007 Non-Final Office Action. Affirmation was required in responding to Non-Final Office Action. Election requirement was not argued and is therefore deemed Final. Claim 42 is withdrawn from further consideration in this application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 16-18, 20-26, 28-34, 36-41 and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C 103(a) as being unpatentable over Valencia et al (US Pat No. 5,380,991) in view of Coutts et al. (US Patent No. 6,311,165 B1).
8. Regarding claims 16-18, 24-26 and 32-34, Valencia discloses a system and method for executing an event-driven application resident in a smart-card comprising a fundamental module, the application being separated into a central module and at least one complementary module, the method comprising: managing interaction between the central module and the at least one complementary module by the fundamental module (Abstract, Figure 2); and after at least beginning execution of the central module by the fundamental module by the fundamental module based upon an external event, generating a new event by the fundamental module for managing the at least one complementary module (Figure 2, Column 2 lines 59-62, Column 4 lines 4-26).
9. Valencia does not explicitly recite the event generated being an internal event.
10. However, Coutts discloses a system and method wherein the event generated is an internal event (Column 12 lines 16-34).
11. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the teachings of Coutts in the device of Valencia reference to include a system and method wherein the new event generated is an internal event, for the advantage of isolating particular events internally within relevant module.

12. Regarding claims 20, 28, and 36, Valencia discloses a system and method wherein an interface defined by the fundamental module is provided to the central module and to the at least one complementary module (Figure 2).
13. Regarding claims 21, 29, and 37, Valencia discloses a system and method wherein input data delivered to the central module is also delivered to the at least one complementary module (Figure 2, Column 4 lines 4-26).
14. Regarding claims 22, 30, and 38, Valencia discloses a system and method wherein the fundamental module is associated with an operating system of the smart-card (Figure 2, Column 4 lines 4-26).
15. Regarding claims 23, 31, and 39, Valencia discloses a system and method wherein the fundamental module functions as a terminal interface protocol manager (Figure 2, Column 4 lines 4-26).
16. Regarding claim 40, Valencia discloses a system wherein said smart card comprises first and second memories and wherein the central module resides in said first memory and the at least one complementary module resides in said second memory (Figure 2, Column 4 lines 4-26).
17. Regarding claim 41, Valencia discloses a system wherein said first memory comprises a read only memory and said second memory comprises a programmable memory (Figure 2, Column 4 lines 16-36).
18. Regarding claim 43, Valencia discloses a system wherein the electronic device is configured as a point of sale terminal (Abstract, Figure 4, Column 4 lines 4-26).

19. Claims 19, 27, and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C 103(a) as being unpatentable over Valencia et al (US Pat No. 5,380,991) in view of Coutts et al. (US Patent No. 6,311,165 B1) further in view of Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (APA), (see application 10/725193, Figures 1-3, paragraphs [0001] – [0019]).
20. Regarding claims 19, 27, and 35, Valencia fails to explicitly disclose a system and method wherein the at least one complementary module is registered and triggered based upon a new internal event.
21. However, APA discloses a system and method wherein each complementary module is registered and triggered to an appropriate new event (Figures 1-3, Paragraph [0011]).
22. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the teachings of APA in the device of Valencia reference to include a system and method wherein the at least one complementary module is registered and triggered based upon a new internal event, for the advantage of distributing and tasking particular tasks to designated modules.

Response to Arguments

23. Applicant's arguments with respect to 35 U.S.C. 102 rejections have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
